At the best golf hotels in the world, your trip doesn't start and end on the course. The experience carries through to the hotel, where you can get a massage with heated golf balls to loosen up tight muscles before your next round, or work with a golf butler who can secure sought-after tee times at iconic courses.

One island resort opens up its greens at night for glow-in-the-dark golf. Another can take you out on a private helicopter ride to get an aerial view of the courses before you play them.

So if the Masters Tournament this week is inspiring you to book a golf getaway of your own, here are 10 hotels that cultivate a country club feel with amenities golfers will love in addition to access to spectacular courses.

3. The St. Regis Punta Mita Resort

Punta Mita, Mexico

Sync your tee time up with low tide so you can take your golf cart off-roading across the water and play the world-famous Tale of the Whale Hole 3B that's billed as the world's only offshore hole on a natural island. The hole is part of the Pacífico Golf Course in the Punta Mita development of Riviera Nayarit. Make The St. Regis Punta Mita Resort your homebase for a golf-centric vacation. The beachfront resort also provides access to two Jack Nicklaus Signature golf courses. Deluxe suites come with terraces and private outdoor showers.
